

LWW Doody's All Reviewed Collection 2007

More than 150 high-quality LWW books that have received star ratings from Doody's Enterprises

Source: Lippincott Williams & Wilkins (LWW)

This collection consists of 152 titles in core medical and health science specialties from Lippincott Williams & Wilkins, one of the world's most respected medical publishers.

Every title in this collection has been reviewed by Doody's Review service. What does that mean? The Doody review process may be described by the star rating assigned to each review. The stars correlate to the numerical ratings derived from the ratings questionnaire completed by the reviewer in the course of assessing the title. The questionnaire highlights 16 different elements (such as the authority of the authors, and the quantity, currency, and pertinence of the references) of the title. The rating system helps ensure that each review is as fair and as objective as possible. The star rating system allows Doody's Book Review Service™ to incorporate quantitative and qualitative analysis in its reviews. Each review includes the full questionnaire along with the numerical rating and star rating.
