

FSTA - Food Science and Technology Abstracts®

FSTA - Food Science and Technology Abstracts® is the world's leading database of information on food science, food technology and nutrition.

Source: International Food Information Service (IFIS)

FSTA covers topics relating to every aspect of the food chain including all the major food commodities plus biotechnology, microbiology, food safety, additives, nutrition, packaging and pet foods.

FSTA boasts an unrivalled coverage of journals from many fields of relevance to food science, food technology and nutrition. The database includes material from over 4600 serial publications published in up to 40 languages.

Wherever possible FSTA abstracts include additional information of food-relevance from the original article. Each record includes full bibliographic data. FSTA is fully indexed with 10,246 keyword terms taken from the FSTA Thesaurus.

Patent coverage sources include the European Patent Office; World Patent from 104 countries; and country patents from the US, UK, the EU, and Japan.
