

Wolters Kluwer
Health

Ovid

content + tools + services

Contemporary Family Therapy

Source: Springer Science+Business Media

ISSN: 08922764

EISSN: 15733335

Contemporary Family Therapy: An International Journal presents the latest developments in theory, research and practice pertaining to family therapy, with an emphasis on examining families within the broader socio-economic and ethnic matrices of which families and their members are a part. Demonstrating that the therapeutic relationship is most effective when family, individual, and society are seen as interacting systems, the journal examines essential factors which include family value systems, social class, and racial, religious, and ethnic backgrounds.

Broad Subjects:

Behavioral & Social Sciences

Specific Subjects:

Psychology; Social Sciences; Social Work

Access Options:

n Ovid Internet, updated Quarterly

Other Information:

n PDF Coverage: September 1998 - Present