

Wolters Kluwer
Health

Ovid

content + tools + services

British Journal of Ophthalmology

Source: BMJ Publishing Group

ISSN: 00071161

EISSN: 14682079

British Journal of Ophthalmology is a fully international journal covering all aspects of clinical ophthalmology and the visual/ophthalmic sciences. The Journal was founded in 1917 by the amalgamation of the Royal London (Moorfields) Ophthalmic Hospital Reports with the Ophthalmoscope and the Ophthalmic Record. Main features include articles on both clinical and laboratory sciences, a series of articles in the form of perspectives, providing brief up to the minute reviews and Commentary - an occasional series challenging current dogma and opinion.

Recommended by:

Listed on the Core Collection of Medical Books and Journals (Hague List)

Broad Subjects:

Clinical Medicine

Specific Subjects:

Neurology; Psychiatry; Ophthalmology

Access Options:

n Ovid Internet, updated 12 Times a Year

Other Information:

n Full Text Coverage: January 1996 - Present

n PDF Coverage: September 2000 - Present

n Publish Ahead of Print