This book, part of an extensive clinical series for Chinese clinical practitioners, discusses the primary symptoms and pathological mechanisms of Knee osteoarthritis from a traditional Chinese medicine and modern medicine viewpoint. It focuses on the syndrome differentiation of Chinese Medicine and the basic methods of acupuncture as well as other distinctive and effective treatments.