Written by a Certified Mindfulness Facilitator renowned for her expertise in bringing mindfulness solutions and practices into the workplace and to health care in particular.

It also addresses the impact of stress on health and well-being and explains the meaning and thought behind mindfulness in the health care context.