Discusses 54 of the most common female disorders and presents their etiologies, signs and symptoms, treatment principles, formulas, and formula analyses in a clear and concise manner.

This book provides insight into the clinical thought process of Qian Bo-xuan, one of China's leading figures in the treatment of women's disorders. Comments are added after the discussion of each disease, reflecting the author's extensive clinical experience in the diagnosis and treatment of gynecological and obstetrical diseases.