Acupuncture Therapeutics

Provides comprehensive information both on the basics of administering treatment and on specific process for particular illnesses and complaints.

Acupuncture therapeutics, the clinical application of the basic theories of traditional Chinese medicine, is at the heart of the treatment process. The authors outline the functions of acupuncture within the wider context of traditional Chinese medicine, and the principles involved in identifying and treating different syndromes. A large portion of the book describes specific treatments for more than 130 different conditions, including headaches and angina, asthma, depressive disorders, dementia, and acne.

Compiled by the prestigious China Beijing International Acupuncture Training Center (CBIATC), this book is an excellent reference for the advanced student or practitioner of traditional Chinese medicine.
