This book is unique in that it will appeal to practitioners, policy makers, and commissioners in health and social care practice and education who buy into the principles of service user engagement, but who find it hard to know how to progress the practicalities.

Service user and carer engagement in health and social care, and in the education of practitioners in this area, is emerging as one of the most important new drivers within government policy in a number of countries. However, beyond the rhetoric, there are few guides that address the practicalities of setting up and running such a project.

Based on the set up and running of the unique and very successful Comensus project, this practical and accessible text will provide a framework for building authentic and sustainable community engagement in health and social care education and practice.
