Medical Meetings on Demand: Meetings Overview

Hundreds of hours of research presented at annual meetings of key medical societies, associations, and institutions — listen and watch every presentation anytime, anywhere as if you attended live!

Stay current on research, new breakthrough treatments, and the latest standards of care by listening to leading experts in their field present their latest research some of the most highly attended meetings.

- Watch everything the presenter shows on screen—including embedded videos, such as procedures, mouse movements, etc.—and follow along with fully-synchronized audio.
- Search specific terms or browse by schedule, session, or presenter.
- Search every word on every slide!
- Easily jump to specific parts of a presentation that reference your searched terms.
- Stop, start, and rewind any presentation so you don’t miss a thing.
- Re-watch presentations to catch those you may have missed.
- Download MP3 files for listening on the go.
- Own every presentation so you and your colleagues can access them year after year.
- Accessible via a mobile-optimized player.

Meetings Available Now!

- American Academy of Neurology (AAN) Annual Meeting - The world’s largest gathering of neurology professionals discusses cutting-edge research and presents top-rated educational programming on a wide variety of topics. Content from both AAN 2016 and 2015 are available.

- Digestive Disease Week® (DDW) - The world’s leading educational forum for gastroenterology, hepatology, GI endoscopy, gastrointestinal surgery, and related fields. DDW 2016 and 2015 are available.

- American Psychiatric Association (APA) Annual Meeting - The premier educational forum for psychiatry and related fields. Both APA 2016 and 2015 are available.

- PAINWEEK® - The largest pain conference in the United States for frontline clinicians with an interest in pain management (some exclusions may apply to slides and presentations). Both PAINWEEK 2016 and 2015 are available.